

4th Installment School History

The past three years have been very eventful in the history of Lowrey. Many changes have taken place in the staff, student body, and appearance of the building. In this issue we will discuss a few of these changes.

In February of 1963, Mrs. Kaufman left the counseling staff at Lowrey to take a job at the University of Michigan Dearborn Center. She was replaced by Mr. Kraai who also became sponsor of the class of '65. Mr. Boatwright became assistant principal in March of 1964 after Mr. Dzovigian, the former assistant principal, took a job at Haigh Elementary School in January, 1964.

Many new teachers have been added to the Lowrey staff in the last few years and many have departed. Mr. Wonders, a typing teacher, died in 1962, and Mrs. Weaver, a short-hand teacher, died in 1963. Mr. Gray and Mr. Howser retired in 1963.

In 1963 Lowrey changed leagues, from the Twin Valley League into the new Tri-River League. This move proved to be a wise one for the first year because the football team tied for the championship. The change in leagues also created a greater competitive spirit at Lowrey because of the rivalry between Lowrey and Riverside in Dearborn Heights.

Mid-year graduation was eliminated. The last one being in 1963. The student body now graduates in June only. The plan now is to have full year courses instead of semester courses. This has not been worked out fully yet but first steps have been taken.

This year Lowrey became exclusively a District 7 high school. The 1964 graduating class was the last to include District 2 students. The Junior Prom, an annual event at Lowrey, was discontinued in 1963 because of the lack of interest and attendance. A new tradition was begun in 1963, that of the Senior Fountain. This fountain, located in the second floor lobby, is for the exclusive use of seniors, and anyone else caught drinking from it pays the penalty. Another new idea, started last year, is the morning donut sale. Students were given assigned busses starting in 1965 because of student misconduct. This was a bad day in the history of Lowrey.

The history of Lowrey does not end here, nor will it end when this building no longer stands. It will continue as long as there is an ex-Lowrey student who contributes to his society and can look back and say that he learned much from attending Lowrey High School.

Musical Cast-Rehearsals Underway

Rehearsals for Lowrey's first musical, "The Fantasticks," are getting under-way and creating excitement in the drama department. "The Fantasticks," first presented in New York in 1960, is one of the most popular off-broadway musicals in recent years. This musical has been presented by many colleges, professional troupes, and on television. Lowrey can be justly proud that it is one of the first high schools in the metropolitan area to attempt this production.

The enthusiasm of the cast and crew is expressed by the director, Mr. Irwin: "The Fantasticks is one of the finest shows to be presented here at Lowrey School. Besides being our first attempt at contemporary drama. We have an enthusiastic cast, and I am looking forward to a fine production in April."

The story revolves around care-free young love. The youthful lovers feel that only each other is important and that the whole world may go by. Circumstances crush their ideas and prove that their love is not real until they have an understanding of the world and its problems. The simple staging sets the first act in the moonlight and the second act in the sunlight.

The cast of characters is presented below:

El Gallo	Paul Ray
Matt (the boy)	Lary Shotliff
Louisa (the girl)	Claudia Sell
Boy's father	Tery Hermeneau
Girl's father	Jim Masterson
The Old Actor	Don McKee
The Man who dies	Dave Brill
The Mute	Mike Horvath
Assistant Director	Joan Houle

Claudia Sell

Hospitals Need Student Help

Voluntary hospital service is a very worth while activity in which to participate. This was the idea presented by Miss Hagerty, a speaker for the American Red Cross, to members of the Future Nurses Club at the meeting held on Tuesday, March 16. She described some of the various duties the volunteers participate in. They include such things as working on the wards, doing escort service, and working in central supply and housekeeping.

Last year we had 13 Lowrey students taking part in a program of this type.

If you are interested in doing voluntary work, call the Red Cross office at 274-2450 as soon as possible. You do not have to be a member of the Future Nurses Club, and boys as well as girls are asked to help.

Spring is here-Time for a change

Long months and cold weather, the unbroken span of school from January to March, the often dreary confinement of winter depresses many.

Depression, apathy, lethargy, these are the results of a winter's confinement. To break those bonds we must regain hope and interest in life. There must be something to look forward to.

With winter many of us go into hibernation and groggy, with our long sleep, we awake to a distressing world of chores half done and obligations unmet.

As the world is "reborn", given a new lift, and bursts into bloom, with a reaffirmation in our faith in our fellow man. Spring should bring to Lowrey a "bloom" of activity.

Do something different, something unique, take up a challenge and live up to it. Make a new break in your present routine and introduce some physical routine to shape you for an active summer. The important thing is to do something that will catch your interest and stimulate your thoughts.

As the winter melts away and Spring returns let us hope that the vitality and curiosity of youth replaces the depression and apathy that has plagued the long winter.

Bits 'n' Pieces

Money is due in on April 2 for the trip to Stratford next fall. If you plan to go be sure to get your money in.

April 2 and the new cheerleaders for next year will be known within a week.

Attention 11A's and 10A's. Scheduling for the 65-66 year is beginning. Be sure to take careful planning in your selections.

On March 17, Lowrey's Class of 65' had their first dress up day. The boys came dressed in their best suits and the girls with their best dresses.

Students Register

Seventy-five of Lowrey's seniors who are interested in attending Henry Ford Community College this fall were pre-excused second hour Tuesday, March 25, to gather information about applying. The students assembled in the theatre to hear from a H.F.C.C. representative, to ask questions of him, and to obtain advance application blanks.

Applications were distributed to all interested students. The registration fee was five dollars. Students interested in night school were told they would have to sign up at a later date.

"Summer Place" Coming Soon

"Summer Place" has been selected for the theme and song of the prom for the Senior Class of 1965. Among the other suggested themes that the Senior Class chose from were: "Exodus," "Days of Wine and Roses," and "Some Enchanted Evening."

Now with the selection of the theme, the tickets, posters, and programs can be printed. The class colors, violet and white, and the class flower, the white rose, will decorate the tickets and programs.

The decoration committee, headed by Mike Kay and Susan Lustig, are in the process of ordering the flowers to decorate the Veterans Memorial Ballroom.

The various committees are turning in their reports and approximate cost of materials to the class officers and class sponsors. These reports will help decide how much money can be spent on a gift for the school. Many gifts have been suggested, but, as of now, a specific gift has not been chosen.

In addition to the other plans, the catering service at the Veterans Memorial Building has been contracted and refreshments are being ordered.

Inquiring Reporter

"What do you think of high school marriages?" This question was asked to some of Lowrey students. Here are some of their replies:

Mike Malyszek, 10A-7: "I feel that most high school kids are not ready to accept the responsibilities of marriage."

Arlene Fraser, 12A-3: "It depends on the person. How mature they are, their views on marriage, their religious beliefs, and their financial conditions."

Sue Kosovich, 11A-7: "If you are married in school, then every place you go you have to drag along your husband. That wouldn't be any fun! You wouldn't have a chance to have a new boyfriend."

Karen Fauer, 10A-4: "High School and marriage are like oil and water—they don't mix."

Renee Harvey, 10A-5: "If they want to get married, why not let them."

Richard Fritz, 11A-4: "Intelligence is marked in many ways, but a high school marriage is not one of them."

Letter To Editor

To the Editor:

I want to thank Mr. Keranen and the Lowrey Stage Band for the fine performance they put on for the Kiwanis Club on Wednesday, March 24.

I've arranged programs for the club before, but never had the response in sincere compliments that came from members on this one. They ranged from "a real nice bunch of kids" to "amazement at the musical ability" with many others in between.

One fellow said, "Imagine how that guy (Mr. Keranen) must feel after having a group like that, to see so many of them leave at graduation."

Thanks again to all of you. It was one of the big "kicks" or satisfactions that come with association with such a fine group, even though I can't play "Three Blind Mice" on a mouth organ.

You went OVER in a BIG way.

—Wm. G. Scott

It's Worth Waiting!

High school students!!! Are you engaged? Better yet, are you married? If you're not, just think how lucky you are. You don't have to worry about those many responsibilities, of married life. In this article the many reasons, problems, responsibilities, and disadvantages in early marriage are discussed.

There are many reasons why there are so many early marriages, but the biggest reason is lack of maturity. Many other reasons were stated in a pamphlet called, "Too Young to Marry." Some of these facts were:

1. The teens involved are in rebellion against their families, society or because they are impetuous and lacking judgement.

2. They have little experience in handling the necessary responsibilities of married life.

3. Today's continued prosperity enables today's teen-agers to find jobs easily which enable them to help support themselves buy cars and enjoy a high degree of economic independence.

4. Teen-agers see many of their friends getting married early too.

There are also many problems in early marriages. They are: there are many financial problems which they are just too immature to handle. Without a high school education it is impossible to get a good job which would bring a substantial income for a growing family. The biggest problem is that they just don't know how to manage a budget or a family.

Now we come to the responsibilities. There are many, many responsibilities of married life. These responsibilities are that they have to make enough money to take care of them, their bills, and a growing family, this usually the young man's job. Then, it is the girl's job to take care of the money properly and make a good family budget. They must be able to work as a team, not be greedy and want things for themselves. They must be able to cooperate with each other's different moods. Most teens aren't prepared to cope with these responsibilities.

Now we come to the disadvantages of early marriages. That is all the things of single life that you are missing. These young high school couples who get married can't go out whenever they could if they weren't married. So they miss all the activities of high school that their lucky friends are enjoying. The biggest disadvantage of these early marriages is that you always have to have your husband or wife with you. And he or she has to know every single thing you do.

In conclusion, it should be pointed out that marriage is a give and take proposition. It takes patience, understanding, good sense, and maturity to make a marriage work. Whenever you try it—good luck!

Future Secretary Of The Week

In the last issue of the Lowrey Light we started a new column—Future Secretary. In each issue a girl from Mrs. Sturgis's third or fifth hour Secretarial Class will be featured as the future secretary.

In the issue, we are featuring Helen Hayes, 12A-6 from Mrs. Sturgis's fifth hour class. She was chosen as the future secretary by her class mates on the basis of her appearance for the office.

To become a secretary, a girl not only needs appropriate office attire, as was covered in the last issue, but these qualifications:

1. Typing—65 words per minute (deducting for errors)
2. Shorthand—80 words per minute or more
3. Booking—Optional
4. Office machines—most commonly used include the duplicating machines, transcribing machines, adding machines, and calculators.
5. General filing
6. A friendly personality
7. Speed and efficiency
8. Accuracy—in typing and spelling.
9. Neatness—general appearance and office work
10. Punctuality

A secretary must have all these qualifications, not just nice looks and a pleasant appearance; but they sure do help.

In the next issue we will cover the various jobs of a secretary in an office.

Painting of The Month

April 1 marked the beginning of a new activity. The art department started a "Painting of the Month" exhibit.

The idea of this project has been discussed between Mr. Jones and Mr. Romanow for quite some time. The project started yesterday and will continue again at the beginning of the next school year. Mr. Jones is the person who makes the selection. He bases the selection upon the student's development and working effort in his project.

This month's "Painting of the Month" belongs to Mike Kay 12A-5. He calls his painting New York City. When asked to describe his painting Mike replied, "It is a surrealist painting in which certain objects stand out and other objects aren't bothered with. It is called New York City and I believe the onlooker should decide what it represents." Mike would like to become an art teacher. Mike is honored by his painting being the first up, and he hopes the idea of having a Painting of the Month continues in the future.

The "Painting of the Month" will be located in basement in the main hall. It will be placed on the bulletin board in this location.

At present the time a new painting will be put up at the beginning of every school month. Be on the look out.

Tradition Of April Fool's Day

April 1 is commonly referred to as All Fool's Day or April Fool's and it is the one day of the year during which more practical jokes are played than any other day. Not only are the jokes pulled, but it is even considered proper.

April Fool's Day is almost universally observed throughout Christendom. The exact origin is not known, but it can probably be traced back to an old French custom of the 16th century of paying formal calls to a friend on April 1, which was one week after New Year's Day according to the Julian calendar. When the old calendars were replaced by the Gregorian in 1562, mock calls continued to be paid on April 1 as a joke.

In some regions, the victim is called an April Fish and in Scotland particularly, they are referred to as April Gauks.

Yesterday was that celebrated day. Was it an eventful one for you? How many times were you told that your entire class was having a surprise test in English, or that someone saw your father down in Mr. Boatwright's office, or that you have ink on your face? Were you an April Fish?

If you felt sorry for yourself because a prank was pulled on you, pity the person who was born on April 1 !!!

Senior Cards Are Here

Senior Personal Calling Cards, ordered in February, were received by Mr. Kraai, class sponsor, on March 29, and will be delivered to the Senior homerooms on Monday, April 5. There will not be another chance to order these cards.

Tuesday, April 6, the Senior Class will hold a general class meeting in the Little Theater at 8:15. At this meeting the proposed budget will be discussed. The senior will vote on the choices of the gift to be given to the school. Due to the cost of refreshments, the students will also vote on whether or not they want them for the prom. All of the other prom plans have been made.

It is very important for all seniors to attend this meeting.

Are Seniors Ready?

Are the seniors of this year really ready to be seniors? It seems that there are a few who are not. The senior announcement blanks were very slow in being turned in, and this is after the date was extended. Mrs. Marnelli gave this comment on the return of the announcements: "I can't see why students, as seniors and ready to face the outside world, have to be reminded so many times for something that is for their bene-

Lit. Club Accepts New Library Books Final Works

The Literary Club has been in the process of accepting final works for publication in the "Asterisk." The final acceptance date was April 1.

According to Mrs. Helveston, a lot of good material has been submitted including poetry, serious essays, and good short stories. A lot of this good material has had to be rejected due to the fact that there is not enough room to print everything. This ample supply of material will be used next year in future "Asterisks."

The cover of the "Asterisk" was designed by Per Holthe and it can be seen in the art showcase. The most active part of the staff is now the art department who is preparing abstract designs for the interior of the magazine.

The social members of the Literary Club are planning to attend performances of "Macbeth" at Wayne's Hillbury Classic Theater, and "Member of the Wedding" at the Bonstelle Theater on Woodward. Hillbury's "Macbeth" is traditional of Hollywood with six bloody, ugly witches, an enlarged bodiless head, thunder and smoke, and a bloody child as well as the original Shakespearean material.

Next year, the Literary Club plans to publish two or three issues. Says Mrs. Helveston about the upcoming issue, "The 'Asterisk' promises to be a very professional literary magazine and the pre-sales seem to have been good. Threehundred ninety-two copies have been sold," Says Mr. Leslie. "All of the 'Asterisk' club are very much encouraged by the results of the pre-sale. Although many more people said they would buy a subscription than actually did, the number of sales made assure us of a quality magazine which should be a real keepsake in years to come."

After-Dinner speaker's remark: "Now before I start I want to say something."

fit, and their benefit alone."

Let's all try to do better in the future.

Shakespeare to Schweitzer—Planetary Motion to Medicine—name the subject and the chances are that our library has a book about it that will provide you with additional information, pleasant reading, and rewarding insight into the matter.

William Shakespeare: A Biography by A. L. Rowse gives a complete account of the life of Shakespeare and closely examines his many fine works which include "Julius Caesar" and "Macbeth."

Albert Schweitzer's Gift of Friendship by Erica Anderson, an actual friend of Dr. Schweitzer, describes the life and works of this great man who has become a legend in his own time.

The Century of Science by Watson Davis records man's achievements in aviation, communications, rockets, and space, electronics, chemistry, health and medicine, the earth sciences, nuclear physics, and dozens of other topics in the twentieth century.

an experienced American war correspondent, gives a definitive eyewitness account of combat in war-torn Vietnam.

The Autobiography of Benjamin Franklin is an interesting and informative book about a great American statesman and inventor.

March to Saratoga—General Burgoyne and the American Campaign, 1777 by Harrison Bird, tells the story of General "Gentleman Johnny" Burgoyne and his British expeditionary force which swept down from Canada and tried to split the rebellious American colonies in two.

Johannes Kepler and Planetary Motion by David C. Knight is the biography of Kepler whose accomplishments in astronomy in the early 17th century form the foundations of our modern theoretical astronomy.

The World of Medicine by Frank Ross, Jr., thoroughly describes every branch of medicine and discusses a career as a doctor. It gives excellent advice to those planning to enter the medical field.

These books are only a few of the new—and old—books to be found in the school library. Stop in sometime and look around. You are sure to find something that interest you.

Art Corner

The T-Bird contest is coming to a close. Many students have been working hard to make sure their design is just the way they want it, perfect in every way.

Talking with Mr. Jones, he gave us this comment . . . "Scribbles and sketches are taking shape and sparkling new automotive concepts are beginning to glisten from the tabletops in room 115. Much as the delicate butterfly emerges from the clumsy cocoon, the meandering line, dotted paint, bits of fabric and synthetics have combined to produce the most outstanding array of advanced interior and exterior automotive styling in memory here at Lowrey.

"The wedding of dramatic simplicity to primary function has spawned seating units or body style which, though conceived at the hand of schoolboys, has much of what is being ground out at giant auto plants and into the auto market today."

There will be more said about the Thunderbird Contest in the next issue. The topic will be jet-propelled entries.

Books To Read

In a past issue of the Lowrey Light an article appeared recommending various books for teen-age readers. These books were chosen by some of our faculty members. This week, another list is being offered to you. This time they are the favorites of the Sophomore class.

Steve Gnewkowski:

The Silent World—In this classic, the "Father of free diving" relates his adventures as a pioneer in the discoveries of the sea with his invention, the aqua-lung.

Sallye Herndon:

Gone With the Wind—This book told of a girl's determination to have the best in life. After going through three husbands, she finally grows up and decides to be a lady.

Cathy Andrusiak:

Let the Hurricane Roar—It was a very descriptive book telling of the hardships of a young bride alone on an open prairie with her baby.

Jeanette Timlick:

To Kill a Mocking Bird—This was an interesting book concerning the relationship between the Negroes and the Whites. It kept my interest also, because behind the actual theme there was a mystery involved.

Sue McKee:

A Tree Grows in Brooklyn—It was the realistic story of how a girl grew up in the Brooklyn slums. The characters were interesting and believable.

Spring Sports Now Enter Picture

Track Team Starts Coming Season

According to the calendar, spring is officially here and the Lowrey thinclads are on the move. They have been keeping in shape all winter and now they are nearing peak performance for their first meet April 8.

The thinclads are weak in the distance races after losing four record breaking runners last year. They are also weak in the broad jump because Bradley St. Andrew has been out because of an injury in football. Coach Bodary expects a lot of support from the 24 juniors and 8 seniors coming back from last year's team.

Mr. Bodary said that: "We should be strong in numbers and with support from the three Holbirds who have earned varsity letters at Melvindale last year, and Richard Mitchell who threw the shot 43'04" last year." Mr. Bodary expects that Southgate will be the team to beat this year.

While the weather is still bad the team will be practicing in the boys gym and in the balcony with a little running at Hemlock park on warmer days.

The following is this years schedule:

Thursday	April 8	Lutheran W.	Away
Tuesday	April 13	Fordson	Away
Thursday	April 15	Riverside	Home
Tuesday	April 20	Garden City E.	Home
Tuesday	April 27	Garden City W.	Home
Thursday	April 29	Southgate	Home
Monday	May 3	Melvindale	Away
Thursday	May 6	Cherry Hill	Home
Saturday	May 8	City Meet
Wednesday	May 12	Haston	Home
Saturday	May 15	Regionals
Thursday	May 20	Kennedy	Home
Saturday	May 22	State Finals
Tuesday	May 25	League	Kennedy
Wednesday	May 26	Finals	Kennedy

Sports Spotlight

Today's spotlight is turned on Lowrey's new reserve basketball coach, Mr. Peters.

He graduated from Mackenzie

Mr. Guy Peters

High School where he played four years of varsity baseball and football, and three years of varsity basketball. Mr. Peters furthered his education by attending Wayne State University. Obtaining a B+ average throughout his four years of college, he had little time for sports activities as he only played one year of baseball in his junior year. Mr. Peters did not exclude sports from his life totally, as he played 8 years of D. A. B. F. (Detroit Amateur Baseball Federation) during the summer.

Looking at the coming season, Mr. Peters said that the chances look good although our schedule has not been made up as of yet. He said

Teachers Win Over Junior High 33-31

The faculty basketball team, consisting of teachers, played the Junior High basketball team on Wednesday, March 24, and defeated the younger set, 33-31.

The victory was paced by "Fabulous" Fedoruk who scored 13 points.

Some of the teachers who participated and their score totals were:

"Fabulous" Fedoruk	13
"Scratch" Flee	5
"Stretch" Weller	5
"Big O" Ossenmacher	4
"Swish" St. John	4
"Spinney" Spinelle	1
"Spike" Spiers	1
"Cazzie" Peters	2
"Wilt" Bremenkampf	0
"Country" Mys	0

Paul Nome paced the students with 12 points.

Every 3 minutes new teams replaced each other and all in all it was an entertaining and exciting escapade.

that a total of 25 candidates were out for the team and that he would keep twenty of them for the final squad. He commented that he was pleased with the condition of his prospects. He went even farther and said he would be happy if they could win half of their games in the coming season.

Mr. Peters said that he is very happy about being the reserve coach because it brings the boys closer to him. He commented that he would like very much to continue on as coach of the reserve baseball team.

This is just a piece of the action you will see this year when the varsity baseball team opens its season with a home game against Fordson on April 8, 1965.

Six Lettermen Return For Baseball

Six returning lettermen were among the 25 hopefuls who greeted Baseball Coach Rigotti for Spring practice which began March 8. The Polar Bears will begin their season with a home game against Fordson.

The lettermen are Rich Titus, Tim Malyszek, Ron Takacs, and Dave Zajac, all seniors. The other two are Bob Fox, and George Zoller, Juniors.

Lettermen from last year's reserve team are Ray Gierucki, Joe Marette Norm Simmons, Jack Dequano, and John Flanigan. Three sophmores are being considered this year and they are Steve Gerych, Gene Ellefson, and Moe Moiller.

Last year the overhall record was 4 victories and 10 defeats and the league record was 2-6. This record earned the Bears a fourth position in the league standing. The varsity has a better chance this year because of better talent. Cherry Hill and Riverside are considered the two teams that will give the Polar Bears the toughest battle for the league title.

Coach Rigotti feels that if he can get steady pitching and sure hitting to go along with his supurb defense the outlook will be a good one.

The following is the varsity schedule for the coming season:

Monday	April 12	Fordson	Home
Monday	April 19	Melvindale	Away
Wednesday	April 21	Riverside	Away
Monday	April 26	G.C.E.	Away
Wednesday	April 28	Cherry Hill	Home
Friday	April 30	Kennedy	Home
Wednesday	May 5	Southgate	Home
Friday	May 7	Haston	Away
Wednesday	May 12	G.C.W.	Away
Friday	May 14	Riverside	Home
Wednesday	May 19	Cherry Hill	Away
Friday	May 21	Kennedy	Away
Monday	May 24	Southgate	Away
Wednesday	May 26	Haston	Home
Friday	May 28	G.C.W.	Home

All-City Selected

Congratulations should be given to three boys on our varsity basketball team, as they were chosen on Dearborn's all-city squad this year.

Two of the boys, Doug Cole and Jerry Wood received first team berths in the Dearborn Press and Joe Gary was picked for the second team.

The Dearborn Guide had different views on the all city teams as Wood was the only Lowrey player to receive a first team position. Cole was placed on the second team in this paper, while Gary received honorable mention.

Booster Club Elects Officers

Members of the Lowrey Booster Club elected their new officers for the 1965-66 year. At the Wednesday, March 24, meeting, Sheryl Harrison, 11A-5, was elected President. Sheryl is familiar with the club and its activities because she is this year's vice-president.

Gail Dearvang, 10A-3 was elected as vice-president with Betty Bellott, 10A-1, as secretary and Cindy Kea, 10A-6 as treasurer.
